Subject: SAEP's New Rhodes Scholars

Hi Danielle,

I have a bit of news that I would like to share with the directors of FoMRF. Two of the five Rhodes Scholars-at-Large chosen in South Africa earlier this month are SAEP volunteers.

One, Charne Lavery, has been working at SAEP full time this year after graduating from the University of Cape Town in late 2006. She works with me on our Arts Program in the high schools and in institutional development and fundraising. I had written one of her references. The other, Roscoe Roman, tutored our gap year interns in mathematics while he was completing his studies at the UCT. They will join Kate Orkin, a Scholar in residence now who went up last year; she had been our partner in development of the Township Debating League.

This illustrates another aspect of our work. We offer unique opportunities for involvement in township education and development to the best and brightest students at the University of Cape Town and play a small role in the leadership development of a group of them.

Happy New Year to you all, and thanks again for your support for 2008!

Norton
